Problem-Based Learning – Driving Question:

How can an aspiring educator gain practical experience in an authentic, real-world setting?

Prerequisite(s):

- Full acceptance into Global Education Master’s Degree Program
- Have past experience using the Computer and working with the Internet

Catalog Course Description:

During this course, students are placed in host K-12 school systems for 200 hours per semester under aegis of an instructional leadership coach who is considered to be a highly effective veteran system administrator. The student will gain an understanding of the authentic, day-to-day interactions in a real-world setting. Students will develop and evaluate their own professional skills through the opportunity to engage in a problem-based learning situation. This experience will allow students to engage in the reflective practitioner process as a result of immersion in the field experience.

Student Learning Objectives:

The objective is to provide the student an opportunity to participate in experiences and services that are part of a candidate’s program. Candidates will discuss their experiences on the Discussion Board and in Weekly Reflections.

Objectives	Assignments	Assessments
Gain practical experience in an area of authentic K-12 education.	Develop and evaluate goals. Weekly reflections.	Final review of goals. Weekly reflections.
Engage in self-assessment by reflecting on aspects of the internship experience.	Complete pre-assessment self review and collaborate with coach on progress. Weekly reflections.	Coach and candidate assessment reviews. Weekly reflections.
Become familiar with professional associations and literature affiliated with the services assigned.	Read assignments on blackboard and interact with class members.	Discussion Board interactions.
Become socialized into the profession of student personnel administration.	Weekly reflections. Discussion Board posts and interaction.	Weekly Reflections. Discussion Board posts.

Instructional Methods:

Instruction in this online course will focus on developing, enhancing, and improving the instructional expertise and pedagogical knowledge base of educators. Strategies include instructor presentation of new content by “chunks,” and students will actively construct knowledge during hands-on practice and problem solving, collaborative group work, written reflections, in-class presentations, small-group and whole-group discussion, analysis of readings, and application of course content to each participant’s education work-place setting.

Evaluation Methods:

The types of evaluation for this course include one by the on-site supervisor, and another evaluation by the course instructor of required reports and participation in the seminars.

Evaluation criteria for internship:

On-site supervisor evaluations

Mid-semester and final evaluations from on-site supervisor provided under course documents on the Residency Blackboard site will be used for your on-site experience evaluation. It is your responsibility to ensure that your on-site instructional coach has two copies of this form to complete your mid-term and final evaluations. The deadline for submitting these forms to your seminar instructor are at the midterm and the end of the semester.

The following is a list of written reports, assignments, and/or projects required of each student in the course as part of your seminar work evaluation. The deadlines for these are indicated below with each assignment description.

1. Residency Agreement Form and Instructional Coach Forms should be completed at the beginning of the semester.
2. Goals and Objectives will be complete by the student and will include residency goals and objectives that will guide their residency experience. This document should be prepared in consultation with your on-site instructional coach and is due to instructor via the assignment tab on the blackboard.

3. On-site evaluations for the final evaluations are provided under Course Documents on the Residency Blackboard site and will be used for your on-site experience evaluation. It is your responsibility to ensure that your instructional coach completes the final evaluations on time. The deadlines for submitting these forms to your instructor are at the end of the semester.
4. Reflection Papers and Discussion Board Interaction should reflect the learning that is occurring during the Residency. The student will consider the impact and perspective from the level of the system leader and the impact of decisions on building administration, teachers, students and parents when appropriate. Ten weekly reflections are to be submitted through the Blackboard. Each reflection should include the most important leadership learning for the week.
5. Time Verification Log will include a summary of activities and a special project completed during the internship. The final paper includes a summary of your progress on your goals and objectives for the Residency. Be certain to include your self-assessment of strengths and weaknesses, as well as suggestions for improvement of the next internship site in the area. For this report you should use as context, the goals and objectives you developed with your on-site internship coordinator, and if appropriate you may include them in this report and indicate how you met your goals and objectives. The paper is to be submitted through the Assignment board during final week.

The evaluation of the participant's learning will be based on the defined criteria for each assessment, which will be processed prior to the instructional activities and engagement with the course outcomes. Grading is based on the evaluation of student mastery of defined criteria for learner assessments.

Formative assessment of learning outcomes is conducted throughout the course, using a variety of means that include completion of assessments, constructive participation in course work, sharing of appropriate ideas, and involvement in the inductive reasoning process, online journal entries, and responses to assigned readings. Participants will contribute to the academic quality of the class.

Summative assessment includes the completion of a culminating assignment that requires the participant to synthesize class content, apply it to his or her education setting, and complete a reflective action plan for implementing the major components of content and skill acquired during the course.

At a minimum, students will be assessed in the following areas:

1. Praxis II content licensure exam (School and System Leadership Track)
2. Course content assessment
3. Ability to plan instruction
4. Residency/Field experience
5. Candidate effect on student learning

Grading:

The final grade will be determined by the percentage of points that are earned out of 350 possible.

Attendance Policy:

Attendance in an online course is considered weekly active participation. This may include posting to the discussion board, submitting assignments, or completing exams in a timely manner.

Last Date to Drop the Course:

The last day of the Add/Drop Period for this semester is Friday, January 11, 2019. The last day to withdraw from this course with a grade of a W is Tuesday, March 26, 2019.

Disability Statement:

Wheeling Jesuit University offers students with documented disabilities individual accommodations on a case-by case basis with confidentiality in compliance with the American with Disabilities Act and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973.

In order to receive academic or physical accommodations, students with disabilities must provide current (within three years) and comprehensive documentation concerning the nature and extent of the disability and communicate their needs to the Disability Services Director, located in Ignatius Hall Room G 24 or call 304-243-4484. Students are required to meet with the director to develop accommodation plans that they will present to their course instructors at the beginning of each semester. Students with disabilities that require specific housing accommodations must contact both the Director of Residence Life and the Disability Services Director.

Ultimately, all students with disabilities are responsible for their own academic achievement. They must attend classes, complete course assignments, and fulfill all university requirements for their chosen field of study. It is up to students with disabilities to seek out available assistance on campus and to utilize individualized accommodations that promote academic success.

Academic Integrity Statement:

Students are advised that WJU's Academic Integrity Policy will strictly be enforced in this course (see www.wju.edu/studenthandbook). Questions regarding the policy may be directed to the Office of the Academic Vice-President.

Official E-mail:

An official WJU e-mail is established for each registered student, each faculty member, and each staff member. All university communications sent via e-mail will be sent to this WJU e-mail address.

The Academic Resource Center (ARC):

The Academic Resource Center (ARC) is a totally free academic-support service available to all enrolled Wheeling Jesuit University students and staffed almost exclusively by WJU students recommended for employment by WJU faculty. The ARC is located in Bishop Hodges Library and is open five days a week:

Sundays 6:00-8:00 p.m.
Mondays-Thursdays 1:00-9:00 p.m.

Please visit the ARC's website (readily accessible on the Cardinal homepage under "Quick Links" or as the first listing under "Student Services") to learn about the ARC's services (emphasizing writing, math, and the sciences) and to schedule appointments.

Title IX Statement:

Wheeling Jesuit University seeks to provide an environment that is free of bias, discrimination, and harassment. If you have been the victim of sexual harassment, misconduct, or assault we encourage you to report this. If you report this to a faculty member, she or he must notify our college's Title IX coordinator about the basic facts of the incident (you may choose whether you or anyone involved is identified by name). For more information about your options at WJU, please go to <http://wju.edu/titleix/>.
